

Aesthetic Component of Professional Culture as Factor of Young Specialists Employment in the Village

L.V. Koshelenko

Michurinsk State Agricultural University

Key words and phrases: educational process; all-round development of personality; young specialists employment; modern culture; aesthetic component.

Abstract: The paper studies present-day cultural situation in the villages of Tambov Region and all over the country; the necessity for the aesthetic component in the professional activity of future agricultural specialists as the factor of young specialists in the village is grounded.
