

Information Support for Professional Training of Environmental Engineer

A.V. Kozachek

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: documentation center; information exchange; professional training of environmental engineering; ecological information.

Abstract: The paper identifies the place of ecological information in professional activity of environmental engineering. The paper reveals the peculiarities of using ecological information by environmental engineer. The role of specialized documentation centers as data suppliers for environmental engineer is identified.