

Concept of Professional Motivating Upbringing and Teaching within the System of Secondary Professional Education

M.V. Staffiy

Moscow State City University of Psychology and Pedagogic, Moscow

Key words and phrases: secondary professional education; professional and comprehensive motivation; concept of professional and motivating upbringing and teaching.

Abstract: The paper studies the reasons for weakening the specialist training which are not limited by technical and informational support of educational process. The research is aimed at the improvement of quality of education as well as implementation of National Doctrine of education in RF and the concept of Federal target program of education development in 2006–2010.