

Economic Strength and its Relations with Raw Materials and Production Potentials

A.P. Romanov, M.N. Gubanova

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: category; economic strength (or economic potential); manufacturing process; possibility; potential; production potential; raw materials potential; reserves; supplies.

Abstract: The paper deals with the methodological aspects of the analysis of economic strength, the role and place of resource and production components in its context. The author describes the relationship among the economic strength, the «raw materials potential» and the «production potential» as a hierarchy, which allows deeper to reveal the structure of such a complex and multifaceted category as economic potential.