

Increasing Competitiveness through Enterprise Resource Planning System

N.L. Polunina

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: ERP-system; quality of business tasks implementation; integrity of subsystems; managerial activity automation.

Abstract: The paper presents the feasibility study of ERP-systems application to the management of the main production. The optimal strategy of information technology introduction is to upgrade the existing systems. The application of CAD systems makes it possible to obtain prompt financial return of using scarce resources.