On Substantiation of Outsourcing in Information Management

O.S. Koroteeva, O.V. Lukyanov, I.V. Khrapov

St. Petersburg State University of Economics and Finance;
ZAO NPF “DIEM”, St. Petersburg;
Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: information system; information management; life cycle; outsourcing.

Abstract: The article considers the primary goal of information management which is the provision of appropriate performance of information processing. It analyses the expenses and losses during the whole life cycle of information system. The example of multicriteria optimization of the managerial decision-making, which is either outsourcing or performance of work on its own, is given.