Requirements to the Personality of Computer Science Teacher of in the Light of the Synergetic Approach

E.A. Rakitina, E.V. Bogomolova

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov; Ryazan State University named after S.A. Esenin, Ryazan

Key words and phrases: computer science teacher’s training; requirements to personal qualities of the teacher; synergetic approach to computer science teaching.

Abstract: The paper reveals the basic requirements to personal qualities of the computer science teacher in the light of a modern paradigm of education. The basic principles of synergetic approach to education and their application to the pedagogical activity of the computer science teacher are given.