The Problem of Selecting Points of Sale of Biologically Active Additives and Penalties for Violations of BAA Sales Regulations

K.A. Turovskaya

Pacific State University, Khabarovsk

Key words and phrases: administrative responsibility; biologically active additives; legislation of the Russian Federation; retailing.

Abstract: The article considers the problem of selecting the points of sale of biologically active additives; the administrative responsibility for the violation of the sales regulations resulting from the types of biologically active additives and their functions. The authors suggest that some changes and supplements concerning the given problem should be introduced into the legislation of the Russian Federation.

© К.А. Туровская, 2011