Formation of Information and Communication Competencies of Learners at Different Stages Physics Lesson

O.A. Shishatskaya

Moscow State Pedagogical University, School № 1241, Moscow

Key words and phrases: communication competency; competence-based approach; information competency; universal competencies.

Abstract: The main aim of the present article is to show the importance of competence-based approach in secondary school. Some of the most frequent activities and tasks at different stages of the lesson types, which help to form information and communication competencies, are presented.

© O.A. Шишацкая, 2011