Health, Physical Development and Adaptation of First-Graders with Speech Disorders

L.K. Buslovskaya, O.N. Yurchenko

Belgorod State University of National Research, Belgorod

Key words and phrases: adaptation; speech disorders; first-graders; physical health; physical development.

Abstract: The paper presents the results of studies of physical health, the level of harmonic and physical development, the adaptive capabilities of first-graders in the school year. It is established that physical development of first-graders with speech disorders is high, above average and strongly disharmonious but the level of physical health of most first-graders is low.

© Л.К. Бусловская, О.Н. Юрченко, 2012