The System Requirements to a Specialist in Jurisprudence and Law in the Current Socio-Economic Conditions

O.V. Kharchenko

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: law-making activity; theoretical concepts and training of lawyers; training lawyers.

Abstract: The article presents the results of the analysis of requirements for a lawyer in the current socio-economic conditions, considering the law-making; the process of developing legal norms is considered as an important component of legal regulation, and as a consequence, the basis of professional work of a modern lawyer. From this position it is indicated that the analysis of judicial practice plays a major role in the everyday work of any lawyer, solicitor or head of the organization. The article discusses the role of the language in the professional life of a lawyer and the use of ITС (informational and communication technologies) for applied professional tasks.

© О.В. Харченко, 2012