Key words and phrases: evening school; Komsomol; national education; youth.

Abstract: The article on the materials of the Tambov region evaluates the efforts of provincial Komsomol organizations to organize the work of evening schools for working and rural young people in mid-1950s. The facts presented in the paper prove: measures to establish and develop public education institutions of different types and levels taken by Komsomol as “youth ministry” benefited the overwhelming majority of young people and contributed to the development of the Russian state.
