

Some Approaches to the Management of Teachers'
Self-Education in the Course of Reforming of Education:
the International Aspect

N. V. Molotkova, Ho Kuang Hoa, L. P. Khabarova

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: educational management; effectiveness of teaching activities; school management system; self-education; self-study; teacher training; teachers' qualification improvement; vocational training.

Abstract: The process of successful studying at school depends on a teacher, so professional skills are of particular importance in the present conditions of education. In particular, one of the ways of qualification improvement is developing the skill of self-education. Thus, motivation for reflection, self-study, self-education aimed at professional skills enhancement have a special place in the management of the modern educational system.