

Legal Problems of Formation of Information Resources

O. A. Shubina

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov

Key words and phrases: documented information; information activities; information processing; information resources; forms and methods of documentation; possession of information.

Abstract: Documenting as a part of the regulated activity, relating to informational resource formation is under study. The concept of informational resources is considered. The author suggests not only the way of classifying them but the methods of resolving informational legal problems arising in the given field.