

Language Policy in Terms of Linguistic Norm and Codification: Comparative Analysis

O. A. Seliverstova

Vladimir State University, Vladimir

Keywords: codification; language planning; language policy; lexicography; linguistic norm; standard language.

Abstract: The article deals with the problem of language policy and planning (LPP) in terms of corpus. The research is focused on linguistic norm and standard language in Russia and the USA. The author gives historical background of developing standard language in the RF and the USA and describes its stages based on the role of LPP actors forming linguistic norm. The work provides description of the two LPP types characteristic of Russia and the United States.