

Basic Concepts of Translation Equivalence in Teaching Interpretation and Translation in Bilingual Communication

E. Yu. Vygzova, V. I. Kopelnik, M. E. Vygzov

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov, Russia

Keywords: bilingual communication; dynamic equivalence; intonation; communicative task; communicative factors; translation equivalence; the forecast of extralinguistic-ethnic reaction; functional preminant; functional characteristics.

Abstract: The main concepts of translational equivalence, which determine bilingual communication in the process of teaching the interpretation of translation, are considered. The authors study the concept of dynamic equivalence and consider the functional characteristics that are of paramount importance for the translation process. The interaction of all concepts in the learning process is considered.