

Education of Personal Qualities of Students of a Technical University in Mathematics Classes

B. R. Kodirov

Branch of Voronezh State Technical University in Borisoglebsk, Borisoglebsk, Russia

Keywords: education; quality; personality; mathematics; training.

Abstract: Some aspects of the process of developing personal qualities of students of a technical university in mathematics classes that regulate the field of higher technical education are analyzed. The process of developing personal qualities of students of a technical university in the classroom of mathematics is considered and their characteristic features are highlighted. The analysis of the main ways of educating the students of a technical university in mathematics classes is given.