
The History of the Development of Teaching Foreign Languages in Russia

A. Yu. Ryakhovskaya

Academician I.G. Petrovsky Bryansk State University, Bryansk, Russia

Keywords: methods of teaching foreign languages: methodology of activating the reserve capabilities of an individual and a group; direct; grammar-translation; cognitive-practical; cognitive-comparative; emotional-semantic; audio-lingual; audio-visual; communicative teaching.

Abstract: An attempt was made to trace the history of language education in Russia. The methods, methods and forms of teaching foreign languages from the period of Kievan Rus to the present are considered. Emphasis is placed on the identity of approaches to language education at different historical stages. The modern methods and technologies of teaching foreign languages are systematized, the justification of the communicative method as the leading at the present stage of language education is given.

© A. Ю. Ряховская, 2020