Assistive Technologies in Education

I. E. Ilyina, O. N. Morozova

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov, Russia

Abstract: Assistive technologies used for providing educational process of persons with disabilities of different nosological groups are considered. The ideas about assistive technologies used for teaching disabled people in conditions of educational process digitalization are studied; different types of assistive technologies are presented; the methods of work with assistive technologies in teaching disabled people are discussed. At the same time, the term "assistive devices", which appeared originally in foreign language sources, is actively used.