Abstract: Directions for redirecting the export of Russia's agro-industrial complex (AIC) products are considered in the context of implementing a national project. A ranking of Russian regions by the level of AIC export potential development is presented. An analysis of the dynamics and structure of AIC product exports from Tambov Oblast is conducted. The main trends, problems, and tasks for developing the region's agricultural exports are examined in relation to investment projects. Factors are identified, and promising directions for realizing the export potential of the regional AIC are proposed.
