Development of Functional Literacy in Foreign Language Classes

I. E. Ilyina, O. N. Morozova

Tambov State Technical University, Tambov, Russia

Keywords: foreign language; communicative task; critical thinking; non-verbal information; reflection; functional literacy; reading competence.

Abstract: The concept of functional literacy and its directions are considered. The requirements of the Federal State Educational Standard for the subject results in a foreign language, as well as their correlation to the functional literacy formation are presented. Topical issues related to teaching English in modern conditions have been studied.